

New Mexico Donor Services Seeks Manager of Clinical Services

Title: Clinical Services Manager

OPO: New Mexico Donor Services

Location: Albuquerque, NM

Job Summary: The NMDS Manager of Clinical Services provides management and oversight of the day-to-day operations of all organ recovery activities in the state of New Mexico. Responsible for policy and procedure implementation and staff management. Provides guidance and support across all OPO disciplines. Proactive in quality/process improvement initiatives and best practices aimed at meeting and exceeding NMDS performance measures. The candidate will have the professional demeanor to effectively represent NMDS Clinical Services on a local, regional and national level.

Education: Clinical undergraduate or associate degree in nursing (BSN or RN) and at least three years progressive management experience. Experience in organ recovery or transplantation a plus. Certified Procurement Transplant Coordinator (CPTC) highly desired. The ability to work unscheduled hours and manage “on call” responsibilities is inherent. A valid driver’s license and insurance must be maintained and availability of a reliable automobile to travel within the state of New Mexico. Ability to travel by air is required.

We provide an excellent compensation package, options on relocation reimbursement, and an opportunity to grow personally and professionally with our organization.

Only qualified candidates will be considered and/or notified. EOE
