

Title: In-House Donation Coordinator

OPO/Company: University Hospital / LifeCenter Organ Donor Network
234 Goodman St.
Cincinnati, Ohio 45219

Position Description:

The position is responsible for promoting, facilitating, and implementing an effective organ and tissue donation process at University Hospital that is consistent with the missions of both the Hospital and LifeCenter Organ Donor Network. Specific duties and responsibilities include:

- Respond to all calls (night and weekend rotation) regarding potential organ and tissue donors at University Hospital and initiate activities directed at determining the suitability of potential donors;
- Work in collaboration with the patient's attending or consulting physician to advise and/or directly participate in the continuing clinical management of the patients so as to preserve the families' options for donation and to maximize donation potential;
- Serve as a liaison between the potential donor family, hospital staff and the donor network in interpreting clinical results, securing consent for donation, and supporting families confronted with a non-survivable injury; and
- Develop, conduct and evaluate in-house training, educational programs, and staff development so as to increase awareness and foster "donation champions" within University Hospital.

Qualifications: RN, BSN preferred;
Minimum 5 years working experience – critical care experience preferred
CPTC boarded or eligible within 2 years.

Position works directly with families in duress and should demonstrate exceptional interpersonal and cross-cultural skills, as well as empathy and sensitivity in their interactions. As this is an emotionally charged environment, the applicant must demonstrate a high level of professional judgment and discretion in working with other healthcare providers.

Deadline for Submission: Until position is filled.
